

MAR3.0 CONSULTING INTERNATIONAL

MAR3.0 Consulting International is a consulting and education management solutions firm offering services in talent and performance management, leadership development, career and succession planning, change management and business culture transformation.

We work closely with individuals and organizations accompanying them in every step of their projects. Our solutions and expertise are focused towards the "knowing-how" rather than just the "knowing-about". We offer solutions that are tailored to the client's context and organizational needs.

MAR3.0 is not a typical consulting firm. Our strength comes from the ability to build unique and practical solutions.

Our management team members have extensive program and project management experience with Fortune 500 companies. It is this unique and diverse business experience that allows us to provide comprehensive solutions to address the important challenges of your business.
